WAREHOUSE MANAGER

ABOUT YES EVENTS LTD

Yes Events Ltd is a live event production and equipment rental company who supply a wide range of production services to the live events industry across the UK and overseas. With extensive knowledge in event delivery, production services and equipment hire, we ensure every event is memorable. Our team is curious, passionate, dependable, and enthusiastic – traits that we believe are crucial to our success and growth.

OVERVIEW

We are seeking a skilled Warehouse Manager to lead our warehouse operations efficiently, ensuring that event and production equipment is prepped, maintained, and managed according to our high standards. The right candidate will thrive in a fast-paced, technical environment, competently managing a team and resources to support successful event outcomes.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Manage and oversee all warehouse operations, ensuring effective storage and handling of inventory.
- Prioritise tasks to manage multiple workflows, especially during high-volume returns and dispatch, focusing on the optimal use of space and resources.
- Lead, train and manage the warehouse team, instilling best practices in inventory control and equipment handling.
- Regularly interact with inventory management systems, specifically HireHop (training provided), to maintain accurate records of all assets.
- Prepare and de-prep equipment based on specific job requirements and checklists, ensuring readiness and reliability for subsequent use.
- Maintain a clean, organised, and safe warehouse environment.
- Develop and monitor KPIs such as the percentage of ready equipment and accuracy of job preparations, improving the efficiency and effectiveness of warehouse operations.
- Uphold and advocate for our company values, creating a supportive, responsible, and enthusiastic workplace environment.
